Mina Zhan is a Partner in the Corporate and International Practice of Smith, Gambrell & Russell, LLP, where she advises U.S. and multinational clients on strategic corporate and cross-border matters.

Ms. Zhan's practice focuses on corporate formation and compliance, regulatory compliance and commercial transactions (including M&A, joint ventures, and buy-sell). She also leads clients through employment and HR compliance issues, customs and trade matters, and trademark portfolio management, providing practical, business-oriented counsel that aligns legal objectives with commercial goals.

Before joining SGR, Mina's practice focused on business dispute resolution, restrictive covenants, employment law, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) claims and Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) litigation. She also has developed strong international background by practicing corporate law and Intellectual Property ("IP") law in China, during which she counseled international companies in business formation and compliance and brand protection matters.

Mina earned her Juris Doctorate from Emory University School of Law, her LL.M. in Commercial Law from the University of Bristol in Bristol, England, and her LL.B. from the South China Normal University in Guangzhou, China. She has passed the Chinese National Bar Exam and is eligible to practice law in China.

Mina is active in various community and professional organizations, including the Atlanta Chinese Entrepreneur Club (ACEC), Hong Kong Association of Atlanta and National and Georgia Asian Pacific Bar Association.
