Ade Ola is an Associate in the Corporate (Aviation) Practice of Smith Gambrell Russell LLP.

She works with other attorneys on the Aviation team in representing commercial airlines in their purchase, sale, or lease of different aircraft.

Before joining the Firm, Ms. Ola was a Legal Extern at the Georgia State-wide Business Court, where she conducted legal research and writing, drafted parts of Legal Opinions, and observed the different stages of business litigation. She was also a summer associate at Gregory, Doyle, Calhoun & Rogers, LLC.

Ms. Ola received her Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Communications and studies and French, summa cum laude, from the University of Georgia. She received her Juris Doctorate (J.D.) from the University of Georgia School of Law. While in law school, Ms. Ola was on the managing board of Georgia Journal of International & Comparative Law, Secretary of the Black Students' Law Association, Secretary of Dean's Ambassadors, and a Property Law Teaching Assistant.
