Rebecca Wolf is a Patent Technical Advisor in the Intellectual Property Practice of Smith, Gambrell & Russell, LLP.

Rebecca works both as a patent technical advisor and litigation paralegal at the firm. She has experience supporting complex matters and has developed a keen understanding of both the technical and procedural aspects of IP litigation. Her combined background in engineering, research management, and litigation uniquely positions her to contribute to the firm's patent prosecution and intellectual property strategy work.

Before joining the firm, Rebecca worked as a Project Manager at Duke University, where she led a multi-disciplinary research initiative on AI. Rebecca graduated with her Bachelor of Science in Electrical and Computer Engineering from Duke University.

Rebecca Wolf is not a licensed attorney, and she does not practice law or provide legal advice.
