

Jeff Kuntz

Counsel

Atlanta

jkuntz@sgrlaw.com

404-815-3937

Intellectual Property | Patent Law | Patent Prosecution

Jeff Kuntz serves clients across multiple industries—from packaging and water control to information technology and consumer products—helping them secure patent rights and navigate intellectual property clearance, licensing, and litigation. Jeff is a trusted advisor to clients in the Fortune 1000 and to startups and small businesses. With this unique background, he knows that one size does not fit all businesses.

Jeff practices in the Intellectual Property Department, where he advises clients on patent prosecution, IP clearance, licensing, and litigation matters. Jeff gained a unique perspective on legal practice by serving as in-house patent counsel for TaylorMade-adidas Golf in Carlsbad, California. During his in-house experience, he helped secure intellectual property protection for consumer products in the crowded and competitive golf industry. The experience of seeing the legal services industry from the client's perspective allowed Jeff to develop a professional style that seeks to partner with the businesses he serves, blending business acumen with technical patent knowledge and enabling him to deliver practical solutions aligned with clients' commercial objectives.

REPRESENTATIVE EXPERIENCE

- Advises clients in packaging, water control, information technology, and consumer products industries on patent prosecution and IP clearance.
- Represents clients in Federal District Court for patent litigation.
- Secures trademark rights.
- Advises clients regarding trademark infringement.
- Provides clearance opinions.

EDUCATION

J.D., Georgia State University College of Law, cum laude

B.S., Mechanical Engineering, Georgia Institute of Technology, High Honor

BAR ADMISSIONS

California

Georgia

U.S. Patent and Trademark Office